PREFERS SOLDIERS.

Governor Has a New Method of Doing Things.

Places Responsibility of Patronage on the Board.

Writes a Letter of Instruction to the Members.

Governor Stanley has treated the people of the state to numerous surprizes, but his action in placing the responsibility of patronage as well as the administration of affairs of the state charitable institutions solely upon the state board of charities is some-thing which comes in the nature of a shock to many aspiring candidates for in the past it has been the custom of the governor to fill the places at these institutions as though the board of charities did not exist. After the places charities did not exist. After the places were filled of course the board took hold and handled the business.

The new board of charities has organized and is beginning to do business. The members assembled in Governor Stariley's office yesterday afternoon and with the Republican majority of the board came the two remaining members, P. H. Dolan of Salina and S. C. Wheeler of Concordia, Populists. The situation and conditions at the various institutions were discussed at length, institutions were discussed at length, after which the following letter, written by Governor Stanley to the members of the board, was read; The Board of Charitles;

The biennial decapitation of officials and employes will not now be long de-layed as the new board is organized with a majority of Republicans.

OIL BILL PASSES

The House Without a Dissenting Vote.

The Wheatley oil inspection bill was railroaded through the house late yesterday afternoon by a vote of 89 to 0. It was a surprise to many of the members, and probably was also to the Standard Oil lobby, as it was not expected that the bill would be called up so soon. If the lobby was represented in the house the representatives did not make themselves known, and no opposition to the bill developed itself.

As soon as the bill was called up State and the hind Mr. Wheatley to watch the progress of the bill. The advancement of the oil bill to the head of the calendur at the morning assison placed it so that it would necessarily be taken up the first thing when bills were taken up for final passage but it was not anticipated that it would be taken up intil sometime today. But Mr. Wheatley and Auditor Cole did not propose to have it go over any longer than was necessary, especially as there might be some doubt concerning the legality of a bill passed on Washington's birthduy, a legal holiday.

When the bill came up it was subject to discussion and amendment, but no one ventured to debate it, and the only amendment of consequence offered was one providing that all expenses of oil inspectors must have been paid in cash before they would be reimbursed by the state. This provision was to prohibit inspectors from riding on railroad passes, and then putting in an expense account for railroad fare.

The roll was then called and not a member voted against the bill. If any was opposed to it he remained silent.

The question now is, will the senate substitute it for the Fulton bill, which passed that body last Saturday. It is claimed that bedy last Saturday. It is claimed that body last Saturday. It is claimed that there are defects in some of the amendments to the Fulton bill, which passed that there are defects in some of the amendments to the Fulton bill, which passed that there are defects in some of the amendments to the Fulton bill, which passed that body last Saturday. It is claimed the best to the same.

PARIS EXHIBIT BILL Recommended For Passage in Committee of the Whole. Representative Willits' bill to appro-priate $50,000 for a Kansas exhibit at the Paris exposition came up as a spec-tal order in the house Tuesday aftermoon. It provides that the governor should appoint three commissioners to have charge of the exhibit, one of whom that the secretary of the state board of agriculture be substituted for the commission. A large number of members opposed this on the ground that Secretary Coburn had all he could do now, and that the state could not spare him from his present work. Mr. Daves him from his present work. Mr. Dawes also argued that three commissioners could do much better than only one, anyway, even if that one should be Secretary Coburn.

Mr. Scaton offered as a substitute that Secretary Coburn be made one of that Secretary Column be made one of the board of three commissioners. Mr. Adams tried to make another amendment to have the entire board composed of women, but he was ruled out of order.

"I understand this is to be a pancake "and if so, the women ought to run it."

"and if so, the women ought to run it."

Mr. Bailey called Mr. Adams down for calling the exhibit a "pancake show" and said that it was intended to cover all the resources of Kansas.

Mr. Geissier said he was opposed to any appropriation at all, but if any is made by thought only one complexioner.

any appropriation at all, but if any is made he thought only one commissioner ought to be appointed or the salaries of the commissioners would eat up a good share of the appropriation.

Mr. Fairchild was in favor of three commissioners and of leaving their appointment entirely in the hands of Governor Stanlar.

rnor Stanley, Mr. Seaver said it was a question of whether the appropriation should be made to pay the salaries of the com-missioners or to make an exhibit. He thought if three commissioners are appointed the appropriation ought to be made $100,000

Mr. Benefiel said he was in favor of sending Secretary Coburn as one of the commissioners, but he was not in favor of tying Governor Stanley's hands by saying whom he should ap-

"Anyway," said he, "everyone knows that if Secretary Coburn wants to be appointed on this commission all he has to do is to ask Governor Stanley."

To this Mr. Carle replied: "Everyone who knows Secretary Coburn knows he is not the kind of a man to ask for anything. Personally, I am opposed to the bill." After a long debate it was decided to have three commissioners and to leave their appointment entirely with the

When the question of the amount to be appropriated came up Wright of Lyon moved to make the amount $75,-000 instead of $50,000. "I am opposed to making any appro-priation at all, but if one is to be made

I want it large enough to do some Mr. Harris of Lyon moved to make the appropriation $250,000, but he was ruled out of order, and Mr. Wright's amendment was voted down. Mr. Fogle moved that the bill be reported back to the house with the recommendation that it be not passed, but Mr. Mason made the amendment that it be recommended passed.

In speaking on this motion, Representative McKeever said: "There is a disposition to shirk this proposition because it makes an appropriation. I think we should face this question squarely. Two years ago the legislature shirked a similar proposition and the result was that a collection was taken up to make an exhibit at Omaha, and the only exhibit we had there was some bottles of Kansas wine and a picture of Governor Leedy. It cost a good deal of money, too. If we don't make this supropriation another collecgood deal of money, too. If we don't make this appropriation another collec-tion will be taken up, the exhibit will be poor, and the legislature will have to reimburse the individuals who made

The motion to recommend the bill for passage received 67 affirmative votes. As this was more than a ma-jority of the entire house, no nega-tive vote was taken.

BINDING TWINE BONDS. The House Narrowly Escapes Making

a Costly Mistake. The bill authorizing an issue of bonds to the amount of $150,000 to raise money for the revolving fund to carry on the business of the penitentiary binding twine plant passed the house late Tuesday afternoon. The bill was subject to discussion and amendment, but none was indulged in, and there was practically no conception to the bill. For cations for positions today, and tically no opposition to the bill. For nounce some appointments this this reason the legislature came very near appropriating twice as much near appropriating twice as much that they have not discussed the matter of appointments further than to agree to take them up today.

The Republican members of the board held a conference with Governor Stanley last night at his rooms at the Copeland discussing the policy to be pursued in the administration of this branch of the state government. Mr. Stanley's counsel was for an economical and honorable management of the affairs of these important institutions if indeed it should become necessary to employ a new force of employes every on the final passage of the bill Mr.
Dawes discovered that the wording made two separate appropriations. It was necessary to reconsider the vote and so amend the bond bill as to knock ut the section making the appropria-

If the bill had gone through in its original shape it would have placed $200,000 at the disposal of the peniten-tiary directors and would have useless-ily tied up $150,000 of the general revenue fund so that it could not have been appropriated for other purposes.

SPENT MONEY FAST.

Senate Recommends Nineteen Appropriation Bills For Passage.

The senate in committee of the whole yesterday afternoon considered nineteen appropriation bills involving the expenditure of thousands of dollars for the improvement of the Kansas charitable institutions. Senator Forney, chairman of the ways and means committee, had the right of way and called mittee, had the right of way and called up his bills one after the other.

Appropriations for the following new buildings were recommended: Administration building, Topeka asylum, $35,-000; dairy and physical science building, agricultural college, $75,000; new cell block, Hutchinson reformatory, $$5,000; detached cottage, Beloit industrial school, $20,000; Mother Bickerdyke home, $7,000; roadway at soldiers' orphans' home, $20,000.

orphans' home, $20,000.

In addition to the appropriations for new buildings the biennial appropriations for maintenance and supplies for all of these institutions were recom-mended.

Senator Anderson was especially gratified when the committee of the whole recommended for passage his bill providing for a quarter of a mill levy for the completion of the state house. This levy will raise about $80,000.

uc, coal dealer. Harry G. Clark, 1418 East Twelfth street, an employe at the stock yards.

It is an unusual occurrence for a criminal court jury to be made up as criminal court jury to be made up as this one is, almost entirely of residents of Kansas City. But one of the twelve men, John J. Durrett of Lee's Summit, lives outside of the city limits. As soon as the names of the twelve jurymen were announced by the court,

Jesse James displayed a marked in-terest in the personnel of the jury and asked for the newspapers, so that he could secure some information concerncould secure some information concerning the men who will pass judgment upon him. The young defendant appeared to be very favorably impressed with the jury and lost no time in expressing his opinions. His uncle, Frank James, sat just behind the attorneys and examined each juryman carefully, but did not commit himself. After the reading of the names, Judge Shackleford turned toward the jury and said: "Gentlemen, I trust you all realize the great responsibility that rests upon you. I do not know how long your services will be required, as there are many future events which can not be foreseen,

How many persons over thirty years of age in Topeka can truthfully make the above statement? Many persons will pay $50.00 for a few nights of restful, pay $50.00 for a few nights of restful, strength giving sleep, but you can get this bliss right here in Topeka for only fifty cents at Swift & Holliday's drug store, if you will take Mrs. Mary Smiths' advice who lives at 1511 Cooper St., Jackson, Mich. Mrs. Smith says: "No one knows how much I have suffered for the past three years. At times my back would pain me so badly that I almost cried. I did not rest well at night on account of the severe pain across my kidneys and from nervous-ness. My feet and limbs were swollen like one with dropsy. I was subject to spells of dizziness and would almost fall when they would come on. needless for me to say that I was un-able to do my heavy household work that would require me to bend or lift any. In the early stage of my trouble I was informed that my kidneys were diseased; so I commenced to take kid-ney pills and other kidney remedies, but none of them gave me any relief. My troubles multiplied and I had about given up all hope of ever being well again. I read about Morrow's Kid-neolds and procured a box and took them according to directions. One box com-pletely cured me. Not the least symp-toms of backache remain, my nerves are steady and all right; no more spells of dizziness, the swelling has all disapof dizziness, the swelling has all disappeared in my feet and limbs. New York Women Provide Against Hunger at a Wagner Play.

Hunger at a Wagner Play.

New York, Feb. 22—In their enjoyment of Wagner's dramatic and emotional music, the women who filled the Metropolitan Opera House from floor to roof this afternoon did not forget their material selves. The hours of the performance of "Gotterdammerung"—12:45 to 6—made early breakfasts and late dinners inevitable, so the matters of luncheon became important.

The two intermissions, from 2:45 to 3:05 and from 4:10 to 4:30, were turned into impromptu picnics. From orchestra and circles there was a rush of barcheaded, ungloved women to the buffet.

The few tables were selzed and a verifable mob laid siege to the counter, on which dainty sandwiches, tarts and other delicacies of the pastry cook's are were served. The buffet was not large enough to accommodate its patrons, and, laden with plates and cups, the people scattered all over the building. They sat down on every step of the wide stabs that lead from the entrance to the balcony, turning them into ladders of munching and sipping humanity; they filled the cloakrooms; they gathered in groups on the floors of the lobbies.

Many-mostiy in the family circle—had brought their lunches in card boxes, in true sea beach style, and when it was all over there was a litter for the charwomen to clean up.

IN THE SCRAP MARKET

Neither the U. P. Nor the Santa Fe Want It.

Nor Is It Thought That the Maple Leaf Will Buy.

It now seems probable that the Leavenworth, Topeka & Southwestern railway is destined to be permanently abandoned and the track torn up. An order for the sale of the road has been made in the federal court, but the date has not yet been fixed. It will probably be within the next two months, and the fate of one of the most unprofitable of Kansas lines will then be known. The prospects are that it will known. The prospects are that it will have to be sold for what the material would bring laid down on the "scrap" market, together with the worth of right of way on Choctaw street in Leavenworth. Neither the Santa Fe or Union Pacific roads, both of which are financial ly interested, want the line. It has nev er paid operating expenses, and would be a dead weight on the hands of either of the lines. Just how much there is in the rumor that the Maple Leaf wants the road is not known, but Santa Fe officials think but little of the story. To acquire a Topeka connection it would have to build from Meriden to this city. or pay a heavy rental for the Santa Fe tracks that distance, and several thous-and dollars would have to be expended placing the line in shape before it could be operated to advantage.
